CAMP FIRE CLUB.

The members of the Camp Fire club America of which Daniel Carter Beard, National Scout Commissioner the Boy Scouts of America is presilent, are devotees of real scout work ad, therefore, are hearty supporters the Boy Scouts. Among those memers in addition to Board are Geo. D Pratt, treasurer of the Boy Scouts of America and one of the founders of he movement in this country, and Ernest Thompson Seton, chief scout of he organization. They are working to provide in every state in the country orest reserves and playgrounds for the Boy Scouts. They would like to see in every state in the union a park corresponding in a way to the Yellowstone National Park and the Glacier Pork in Montana. Such parks would be great camping grounds for the boys and would afford them splendid opportunity to study woodcraft, to learn of the birds and the trees, to track antmals, to build camp fires, to fish and to canoe. The camp fire club is also working for the creation of fish refuges such as has been established successfully in Europe. It is fighting to prevent the use of the automatic gun for hunting and for the enactment of laws for the care of the Adirondack forests. Dan Beard is enthusiastic about the plans of the camp fire club. In speaking of the plans for parks in every state he says: "They would be great camping grounds for the Boy Scouts where they could learn real wooderaft without any bloody attrib-

RETURNS FROM LEASED OYSTER

The latest report of the State Shellfish Commission contains some revelayster bottoms leasing law, passed in 1906, which are enlightening, if not ery encouraging. Under this law the Shellfish Commission was created and comprehensive survey of the oyster ands, productive and non-productive, was provided for. This survey has now been practically completed, and in the cport just issued the commission delares that there are now 300,000 acres bottoms available for leasing under the law which can be made valuable by United States target range at Granite and constituted that, by the applica ion of modern methods of oyster culductive as the bottoms reserved a natural yielding areas.
